

What education is supposed to be

You may be considering an online university because it's the best way to fit your education into work, family, and other life obligations. Now, look more closely at Capella University's learning-centered approach.

This is what education for working adults is supposed to be about.

You.

"Capella is unlike any other experience I've had with traditional, ivy league education and other online institutions. Capella engages the learner and makes learning fun, challenging, and rewarding."

Ron Milon, PhD
School of Education
2006 graduate
Rutherford, New Jersey